ADVANCED UNITS OF BRITISH EIGHTH ARMY CATCH UP WITH FLEEING GERMAN AND ITALIAN TROOPS NEAR BENGHAZI

Retreating Axis Forces in Libyan Desert Leave Partially Wrecked Equipment Behind—Third Allied Force Reported Moving in the Direction of Italian Tripoli

(By International News Service)

CAIRO, Nov. 19—Advanced units of the British Eighth Army have caught up with fleeing German and Italian troops south of the Libyan port of Benghazi, the British Middle East command announced today.

"Forward troops of the Eighth Army were yesterday in touch with the enemy south of Benghazi," a communique from headquarters of Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander, a British Middle East commander, said.

(Retreating Axis forces in the Libyan Desert have left behind them a great junk-heap of partially wrecked equipment that included trucks, lorries, rifles, ammunition and packs, the British radio said.)

(At the captured Derna airdrome, a pile of nearly 100 wrecked aircraft was found by advancing British forces, including a number of troop-carrying gliders, the broadcast said.)

Ten German transport planes were smashed in Allied fighting plane attacks on landing grounds in the Benghazi area. The port was subjected to heavy bombing attacks and at least two Axis ships were reported left burning in the harbor.

LONDON, Nov. 19—Reports broadcast by the Rabat and Algiers radios that a third Allied armed force is moving in the direction of Italian Tripoli from the Lake Chad area of French Equatorial Africa still were without confirmation in London today.

The reports, it was felt, probably were Axis inspired in an attempt to gain information.

Informed circles in the British capital said that the obvious target of such a force would be El Agheila, 400 miles east of Tripoli on the Gulf of Sidra, but such a march involves a trek of several hundred miles over waterless desert. It would be a military feat of great daring and endurance but such a drive is not impossible, it was pointed out.

LONDON, Nov. 19—Frank admission that Allied secret diplomacy has put an end to much of Vichy's pro-Naziism was voiced by Marcel Deat today coincident with announcement that Pierre Laval is transferring the French government back to Paris.

Deat, editor of the newspaper L'Oeuvre and outstanding champion of French subservience to Adolf Hitler, said that Vichy would be abandoned because "it has become the symbol of all that is rotten."

Only yesterday, Chief of State Marshal Henri Philippe Petain conferred.

XMAS GIFTS FOR MEN IN SERVICE PLANNED

Red Cross Kept Busy; S. E. Chapter Has Session In Philadelphia

HONOR MANY WORKERS

The Southeastern Chapter of the American Red Cross held a luncheon on Tuesday in the red room of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia, to honor those members associated with the chapter since its inception 25 years ago.

Harry I. Lauffer, chapter chairman, paid tribute to the women and men for their faithful service and great accomplishments during the period. Mrs. Robert Barnhill, production manager for Lower Bensalem branch, Miss Frances Landreth and Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, were among the honored guests.

A meeting of the board of directors, and annual election of members whose term expired during November, 1942, were scheduled. Mrs. William O. Rowland, Jr., chapter vice-chairman and chairman of volunteer special service, presided. Those accepting election to the board were: Carl Bersing, Linn Edsall, Louis H. Pieler, and Dr. Robert L. Johnson. The resignation of Dr. Aims C. McGuinness as an active member of the chapter board, due to his entry into the U. S. Navy, was accepted. Dr. McGuinness automatically becomes an honorary member of the chapter board, and Dr. Thomas S. Gates was nominated to succeed him.

Numerous inquiries have been made of Red Cross regarding plans for Christmas gifts for servicemen in the United States and overseas bases. Frequently, organizations prepare Christmas packages without realizing implications and turn to Red Cross to determine means of transportation or to assist in other aspects, it was stated. Hence, Red Cross asked the War Department for an expression of its opinion. In reply, Brigadier-General F. H. Osborne, director of Special Service Division, SOS War Department, to Don

Youths of 18 To Sign Next Month for Service

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18—Youths who have or will have attained their 18th birthdays before the end of this year, were ordered by President Roosevelt today to register for army training. The President also directed that for the duration of the war, those who reach that age thereafter shall register on their birthday anniversaries.

Thus, beginning with the first of January, there will be permanent, regularly functioning registration system. This it is estimated will produce an estimated 100,000 eligibles for military service each month.

There was also set in motion at the same time by the Selective Service system machinery for speedy induction of teen-age men who registered on the 30th of June. It is estimated that this group will produce about 600,000 youths for the army.

BULK OF XMAS MAIL MUST BE MAILED DECEMBER 1ST

Unprecedented Wartime Demands Will Greatly Delay Deliveries

URGES EARLY MAILING

The bulk of Christmas mail must be in the post offices by December 1st this year if deliveries on time are to be assured, according to Smith W. Purdum, Second Assistant Postmaster General. Mr. Purdum is responsible to Postmaster General Frank C. Walker for smooth and efficient air and railway mail service.

Unprecedented wartime demands on the postal and transportation systems, plus a prospective record volume of Christmas mailings, were cited by Mr. Purdum as necessitating earlier mailings than ever before. "It is physically impossible for the railroads and air lines, burdened with vitally important war materials, to handle Christmas mailings as rapidly as in normal times," Mr. Purdum said. "If the bulk of parcels and greeting cards are held back until the usual time—the period of about December 15 to 23—they simply cannot be distributed in time, and thousands of gifts will reach their destinations after Christmas."

In 1941, about 21,950 cars were required between December 12 and 24 to deliver Christmas mails—enough cars to make a train 270 miles long. This year, the extra cars needed to move holiday mails are largely being used by the armed services, and a severe shortage is in prospect.

The postal service usually borrows

Numerous bombs burst on the runway of the airdrome in central Burma southwest of Mandalay.

RAF heavy bombers were disclosed to have attacked a Jap airdrome at the port of Rangoon on Tuesday night. Large fires also were started at this enemy base.

Blenheims at the same time attacked the Magwe airdrome "with good effect," the communique said.

42 Inmates of Institution Die; 400 "Deathly Sick"

SALEM, Ore., Nov. 19—(INS)—Forty-two inmates of the Oregon State Mental Hospital were dead today and approximately 350 others were in various stages of recovery after eating a poisoned serving of scrambled eggs for dinner Wednesday night.

Death struck swiftly after the evening meal and by midnight 30 patients had succumbed. Reports of additional deaths continued to come from five affected wards throughout the early hours of the morning as a full staff of doctors and nurses battle to save the stricken men and women.

Suspicion increased today that some "inorganic material" had been added to the frozen egg yolks which produced the lethal meal.

CHEMISTRY OF FIRE IS DISCUSSED BEFORE CLUB

Prof. C. C. Pines Gives Demonstration for Bensalem Rotarians

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

ANDALUSIA, Nov. 19—Prof. C. C. Pines, chemical instructor of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, in addressing members of Bensalem Rotary Club, on Tuesday evening, took as his subject, "The Chemistry of Fire."

In commencing his talk, Prof. Pines ignited some cotton over an alcohol burner, and extinguished it by placing it in his mouth. He then traced the history of fire from early times to the present day. He explained how gun powder is made and what it includes. A demonstration was made of gun powder burned in an open test tube. Other chemicals which ignite under various conditions were also presented, with demonstrations. Finely divided metal poured through the air ignited as it came in contact with the atmosphere. The speaker told that such is used in tracer bullets; adding that the same thing can be perfected for use under water by using a different chemical. Some time was given to consideration of use of fire in warfare.

Prof. Pines made the equivalent of a magnesium bomb. He also told of a more recent type of German bomb which weighs but eight pounds. This was first used in England a few weeks ago.

A "Victory" garden was also demonstrated by the speaker. Into a battery jar he poured some water glass diluted with water. Various colored crystals were placed therein, and branches appeared to "grow" through the water.

In the question period it was mentioned that attics of homes can be made less likely to burn in case incendiary bombs should fall, by whitewashing the ceiling, side-walls and floor. This gives a protective coating, stated Prof. Pines, and the chances of igniting are greatly reduced.

S. Penn Salmon presided, with the speaker being introduced by Dr. Edgar Becker. Guests present were Melvin Mack and Raymond Anderson.

CROYDON WOMAN IS ASPHYXIATED; GIRL OVERCOME BY FUMES

Son of Deceased Victim Makes Discovery Upon Arrival From Employment

FUNERAL ON SATURDAY

Victim is Mrs. James Litchfield; Gertrude Kelly Made Ill

CROYDON, Nov. 19—Returning home from his employment in Fleetwings, Inc., aircraft factory at Bristol, yesterday morning, John Kelly found his mother dead in the bathroom, and his 12-year-old daughter seriously ill in bed in an adjoining room.

The deceased, Mrs. Hannah Litchfield, Second avenue, had "unconsciously shut the draft of the pipes heater entirely off," is the belief of the son, Mrs. Litchfield, who was 67, and her granddaughter, Gertrude Kelly, 12, were the only ones at home at the time. The two occupied one bedroom, and it is presumed that Mrs. Litchfield felt ill, and went to the bathroom without arousing her granddaughter, and it was there that she succumbed to the fumes from the pipeless heater.

The son, Mr. Kelly, is employed at nights at Fleetwings, and returned to his home yesterday morning at seven o'clock. When he entered the house he noticed the strong odor of coal gas, and immediately went to the room occupied by his mother and daughter. He found the daughter ill in bed, and his mother's lifeless body in the bathroom.

Dr. A. Gonzalez stated that he believed that Mrs. Litchfield had been dead about two hours.

The child was given treatment, but is still suffering today from the effects of the fumes.

Deputy Coroner J. Alfred Rigby, Cornwells Heights, was called, and issued a certificate giving asphyxiation as the cause of death.

The deceased is survived by her husband, James Litchfield, who is employed in Delaware; the son; a daughter, Mrs. Carl Parker, of Germantown; and four grandchildren.

The rites are arranged for Saturday

Bucks County Participates In Huge Sale of Wheat

A total of 178,000 bushels of wheat was purchased during October to be used as feed in the production of livestock and poultry in Pennsylvania, according to the estimate of Clyde A. Zehner, vice-chairman of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Conservation Committee, reporting that 129 carloads had been purchased through the Commodity Credit Corporation last month.

Bucks County participated with two cars in October shipments.

In order to relieve the grain storage situation and to encourage the turning of wheat into meat, eggs, and milk, which are so greatly needed, the Commodity Credit Corporation was authorized by Congress to sell 125 million bushels of wheat for the feeding of livestock and poultry at a price, Mr. Zehner explained, which has averaged in this State about 96 cents per bushel. This wheat is of good quality; it is the hard, or mixed wheat of which there is a great surplus. Shipments into the State were reported at 265 carloads for about a three-month period, ending September 30th.

Along with the program of wheat for feeding, there is an increasing amount of soybean meal becoming available to livestock and poultry men as a result of the seed crushing operations connected with the increased soybean production program, he said, and farmers will have far greater quantities of high protein feed this year than ever before.

A total of 38 counties in Pennsylvania received October shipments in the program of wheat for feeding. Lancaster county continues in the lead, he said, with a total of 17 train cars of wheat.

DESPERATE NAZIS

In seventy-six hours American forces and their British allies captured all of French North Africa. Mopping up in Tunisia may be preliminary to a full-fledged offensive against Italy.

But the Americans are not concentrating everything in Tunisia. Some American forces are reported to be by-passing the ports of Tunis and Bizerte, on the northeastern angle of Tunisia, and speeding southeastward to prevent a flight of Rommel's remnants into Tunisia or even western Tripoli.

If these reports are true and they proceed with the same dispatch and thoroughness that they have shown from the beginning of the North African campaign, they will hit Rommel from the rear and in turn make their own junction with General Montgomery's British Eighth Army.

German occupation of the Vichy-controlled lower half of France was the natural result of German rage because of the American North African coup. Also it may prove another Axis blunder, for the mask is now torn off Vichy, and it will require a number of German divisions to police all of France, seething with excitement and insurrection.

The Allies are merely trying to save France—and the world—from Vichy-Berlin collaboration of the basest sort. Only the usurers object—patriotic citizens of France continue to resist the Germans and Italians.

Meanwhile, German troops now stand at the border of Spain, just as a few years ago they stood at the border of Austria and then of Italy, Madrid, and Lisbon, too, insist they will remain neutral. But can they? What will Spain do if Axis units land on the Balearics or the Canaries? What can Portugal really do to defend the Azores?

German man power plagues the "master race," and slave labor balks. Italy crumbles. Russians prepare for a counter-offensive as Finland trembles. And a British army remains in England, ready to move as soon as the transports return from the Mediterranean.

THREE WEEKS IN ONE

When it comes to sticking to the job Ray Wood of Springfield, Mass., is a champion.

In fact Wood claims a national record for victory production, a work total of 120 hours in one week. And War Production Board officials back him up. They say the best previous recorded total for a week's work was 112 hours.

Wood is a machinist employed by the Package Machinery Company in Springfield. Recently the Army wanted some parts for small-arms munitions machines—and wanted them right away. Wood, who used to be a machinist's mate in the Navy and whose son is in the Navy now, volunteered to complete an emergency precision-grinding job on the parts the Army wanted. He worked seventeen hours a day for five days and seventeen and a half hours for each of the two remaining days in the week. At the end of 120 hours the job was done and the Army got its parts on time.

It hasn't been revealed how much money Wood got for this week's work or whether he got time and a half, double time or triple time, but he certainly struck a lusty blow in behalf of the campaign to lengthen the work week in war industries.

Exonerate Driver of Truck Involved in Fatal Accident

Corporal Evans stated the driver of the truck when interviewed said that he was going west on the Lincoln Highway and was on the right hand side of the roadway. According to the officer the driver of the truck told him that he saw the pedestrian about five feet away and crossing the roadway from the south side to the north side, and Morgiewicz had stated that he pulled his truck over as far as he could in an effort to avoid striking the man, when suddenly he heard an impact.

The driver was of the opinion that the victim walked into the rear portion of his semi-trailer.

There were no actual eye-witnesses, according to Corporal Evans.

Miss Marjorie Candy, Langhorne, had driven past the spot about ten minutes before the accident.

Morgiewicz was enroute from New York to Philadelphia with seven and one-half tons of produce. The officer testifying stated there are no obstructions on either side of the road and he said that the driver was sober.

Miss Candy, taking the stand related to the jury that she had driven past the man before the accident and that she was at a gas station about one-quarter mile from the scene of the accident when it occurred. She said that she was driving east when she passed Catana. He was walking on the right side of the road with traffic. "He seemed to be staggering toward the center of the road," said the witness. She swerved her car to avoid striking the man.

The driver of the truck, Stanley Morgiewicz, into which it is presumed Catana walked, willingly testified as a witness and told the jury his story of the accident.

Morgiewicz gave his age as 27 and said that he had been driving for seven years and averaged about 200 miles per day. He had about seven and a half tons of onions and carrots on the truck. He told the jury that he had never had an accident previously and had never been arrested. He said he does not drink. He told the jury that he saw Catana a short distance away "coming slowly toward me." Then according to the witness Catana appeared to run and then "I heard a hit."

Morgiewicz stated that he believed that Catana walked into the side of the truck.

The jury deliberated only a short time and when returned the verdict. Catana had been employed as a laborer recently, picking tomatoes on a farm near Bristol. He was a single man and is survived by his mother and several brothers and sisters.

Smith, deputy administrator service to the armed forces, said "The President's committee on War Relief Agencies has been established to co-ordinate fund-raising campaigns with the view to eliminating over-lapping activities in this field. Under the recent ruling, War Department approval will not be given under any circumstances to plans to encourage correspondence between soldiers and unknown civilians. Gift packages sent to soldiers by unknown civilians may contain names and addresses and might easily be a stimulus to such correspondence. Since all available shipping space must be utilized for essential war material and supplies, shipping limitations make it extremely difficult to send packages to soldiers overseas."

Red Cross points out to the interested individual, there is no prohibition against sending individual gifts directly through the mail but for the above reason it is not possible for the Red Cross to participate in any group project of supplying Christmas packages. Red Cross workers in hospitals overseas will supply attractive tassels for every hospitalized serviceman. Hospitals will be decorated and no effort will be spared to make it a merry Christmas.

In the United States, Junior Red Cross will follow its annual custom of providing gift cards, games, favors and Hunt, manager of the Eastern Area in table decorations for Army and Navy a message to Southeastern Chapter.

hospitals. They are now engaged in preparing special Christmas menus for use on navy ships.

This year the hospital and recreation corps and camp and hospital councils will play a large part in making Christmas interesting and attractive, and will serve as chairman through which many groups and individuals may direct their good will. Service organizations, church and civic groups, gun clubs, and interested individuals are encouraged to participate in the program.

"Although not related to Christmas, Red Cross kit bags which are given to every soldier leaving for overseas duty, will be for men who are leaving or are enroute at Christmas time, a welcome Christmas gift," said William Carl providing gift cards, games, favors and Hunt, manager of the Eastern Area in table decorations for Army and Navy a message to Southeastern Chapter.

NOW-when family health can help win the war

YOU CAN WIN A $25 War Savings Bond

BY WRITING 25 WORDS OR LESS

JUST FINISH THIS SENTENCE:

"My family is drinking more milk today because"

Drinking plenty of milk is more important than ever today when America needs everyone's best efforts. It helps to build vigor, helps you to avoid "war nerves"—the tenseness and irritability that come from longer working hours, worry over war news, upset living conditions.

For authorities say that calcium reduces the irritability of tissues and relaxes muscles. Milk contains several times as much calcium as any other common food—in readily assimilable form. And it has other minerals and vitamins which promote health. It is Nature's most nearly perfect food.

You may win a $25 War Savings Bond by writing how milk has helped your family.

And here's an easy way to give your family all the milk they need. Serve them Tastier Supplee Sealtest Homogenized Vitamin D Milk. Tastes better and is better for everyone. Order from your Supplee milkman, your neighborhood store or phone Bristol 2117.

THE CAPITOL WHIRL

By International News Service

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17—(INS)—Cabinet members of the James Administration who have hopes of continuing in office for the next four years are not too outspoken in their wishes while Governor-elect Edward Martin marks time following his campaign. Most of them will be "available" for reappointments but they maintain a discreet silence until Martin gives some hint of his plans. Martin has indicated that one reason for retention of some of the Cabinet members is the shortage of Cabinet members to replace the present group. Such a shortage, naturally, is a result of the war which has absorbed capable executives into war industries where their services are desperately needed.

Kenneth Kressler, of Easton, Primary campaign manager for Sen. James J. Davis, emphatically denies that he will accept the post of Insurance Commissioner if Martin denotes him the $10,000-a-year job. Kressler points out that his insurance business nets more than that and he would lose money if he accepted the offer because his business would disappear. Secretary of Property and Supplies James F. Torrance is expected to be renominated and organization leaders say he will serve until next April when he will be appointed to the Public Utility Commission to fill a vacancy created when Commissioner Richard J. Beamish automatically retires.

Secretary of Highways I. Lamont Hughes will accept reappointment if Martin offers him the position, but will not ask the Governor-elect for the $12,000-a-year post. Hughes established a business-like administration in the Highway Department and dismissed scores of employees whom he considered "deadwood." He is said to be somewhat unpopular with politicians because he refused to grant them special favors. Secretary of the Commonwealth S. M. R. O'Hara, who has hopes of getting an Appellate Court appointment some day, favors a reappointment as does Secretary of Commerce Mark S. James and Secretary of Mines Richard Maize. Attorney General Claude T. Reno will not accept another term because of his health which has forced him to remain away from the Capitol for weeks at a time. Judge Howard W. Hughes, of Washington County, Martin's advisor, is expected to succeed Reno.

Secretary of Forests and Waters G. Albert Stewart, and Secretary of Welfare E. Arthur Sweeney would like to get back into the newspaper publishing business. Secretary of Health A. H. Stewart has indicated willingness to stay on the job for another four years as has Secretary of Labor and Industry Lewis G. Hines. Martin is expected to name Brig. Gen. Robert M. Vail, his Deputy Adjutant General, Adjutant General to succeed him when he becomes Governor. Secretary of Revenue Edward B. Logan may not be reappointed although there is nothing definite yet. Secretary of Agriculture John Light has only a remote chance of winning another term while Secretary of Public Assistance Howard L. Russell has stated he does not desire a reappointment. Superintendent of Public Instruction Frances B. Haas is appointed under the State Constitution and cannot be removed until August 1943.

Sheridan, who is playing the feminine lead in the picture, Judith Anderson and Nancy Coleman. They were discussing the correct care of articles of clothing made of the newer types of fabrics and materials that have resulted from Government regulations. It is important if not essential to know a few facts about the care of these fragile, test tube fabrics. In the wardrobe workroom the operators of ten dye, wash and iron many such materials, so there are a few general principles to be learned with regard to handling the new silk-types, nylons, rayons, test-tube woolens, etc.

When washing garments of silk, nylon or rayon, they should not be soaked or left standing in water. This weakens the fibers of the materials and shortens the life of the cloth. Always have garments made of these fabrics hand laundered. They should never be wrung or twisted. Silk, rayon, nylon and wool should always be washed in lukewarm water with a reliable staple soap or flakes. Take care never to rub soap into the fabric, however. Squeeze the suds through carefully and gently. Several thorough rinsings—also in lukewarm water—will remove all of the soap suds. This is important because soap left in the material will not only rot it, but nine times out of ten will streak the material when it is ironed.

Rayon, silk and wool should not be hung in the sun or near heat. Colored fabrics should always be dried in the shade.

These materials should never be ironed with a hot iron. Use a moderately warm one, and iron with the weave of the fabric to preserve its shape.

A word about lace and its care, while we are on the subject of ironing. There are so many lace trims on garments these days and it is worthwhile to know that their new beauty may be preserved by ironing it on the wrong side, or over a turkish towel.

DOCTOR SHORTAGE

"The shortage of doctors, due to the war, puts an extra responsibility on all of us. Whenever practicable, a patient requiring home visits should call his physician as early in the day as possible. This will enable him to route his calls more efficiently, economize on tires, and gasoline and eliminate unnecessary duplication of trips. It will also save his time and energy and thereby extend the scope of his service in the community. Your cooperation will help in the maintenance of good health on the 'home front'."

O God, our Lord, who hast given unto us Thy Son to be an example and a help to our weakness in following the path that leadeth unto life, enable us to see Him in all His glory, and in all His revelation of Thy will for us. Fill us with the devotion which marked His life; enable us to pray, even in the midst of bitter trial and disappointment, "Thy will be done," enable us to place first things first, and to say with Him, "I must be about my Father's business." VANZANT'S PIRATES TAKE LEAD IN HOCKEY AT BENSALAM SCHOOL

Rangers Lose To Pirates By the Score of 2 to 0

SECOND STRAIGHT WIN

Elaine Winchester Scores Both Goals in The Game

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Nov. 12—As the result of intramural clashes this week, Mildred Vanzant's Pirates jumped into first place in the Bensalem High School Girls' Hockey League. The Pirates defeated the Rangers, 2-0, for their second straight triumph.

In the other games played, the Dodgers won over the WAACS, 3-2, and the Owls and the WAVES battled to a 1-1 tie.

In the Pirates' victory, Elaine Winchester scored both goals. The first was made when she dribbled almost the entire length of the field at the start of the game and the second came when she received a pass from her left inner in the second half.

With all the action taking place in the first half, the Dodgers-WAACS' tilt was a free-scoring tilt with Regina Shiwa scoring the entire trio of goals for the winners. She made two goals in fast succession to give her team a 2-0 lead, but Katherine Vogt took a pass from her left wing and cut the lead a point. Betty Poston, captain of the WAACS, took it upon herself to deadlock the count by dribbling in to score. But Shiwa was still to be contented with and before the half was over she scored her third goal, to win the fray. Neither team showed much offensive power in the second half.

The Owls, captained by Doris Gonzalez, were successful in holding the WAVES to a tie. Barbara Good scored for the Owls in the middle of the first half, while Florence Scott's dribbling accounted for the goal of the WAVES.

The team's standing in points is as follows: Vanzant's Pirates, 4; Stub-trager's team, 3; Brown's team, 3; Gonzalez's team, 2; Poston's team, 1; Cook's team, 1; Grupp's team, 0.

Naval Aviation Cadet John H. Sigafos, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sigafos, Doylestown, was ordered to report to Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., Sunday, for his preliminary flight training. Sigafos graduated from D. H. S. in 1938, Franklin & Marshall Academy 1939, and attended P. & M. College.

Alfred Haas, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haas, Allentown, was fatally injured at Coopersburg Saturday afternoon, when a truck in which he was riding overturned on the Blue Church road.

Haas died while being taken to Quakertown Community Hospital. He suffered fractures of the jaw and skull, a broken neck, and severe lacerations of the head, face and body.

The driver of the truck in which Haas was riding was Charles Cassum, aged 16, Allentown. According to police, he was operating on a learner's permit, and though he was accompanied by three passengers besides the Haas boy, none of the others had drivers' licenses, police said. Haas was the only one of the five to suffer any injury.

In spite of the cold weather, more than 200 persons attended a sale of household articles at the home of William W. Worthington at Roseland. Included among the articles offered were a number of antiques, and one of them was a glass cake dish which was sold for the unusually high price of $21. Bidding on a small chair, which brought $25, was also quite lively. Oil lamps sold quite readily for $2.75 to $3.75 each, and a mirror went to the high bidder for $3.25.

Eight cups and saucers, all of which had been in the family for a long time, brought as high as $1.05 each, and a tea pot sold for $2.25. A few minutes later an old pitcher was sold for $6.

A heart attack on Friday caused the death of Milton S. Bettinger, aged 68.

plenary powers upon Laval and named him his "presumptive successor."

This dramatic development coincided with a report published by the London Daily Express that General Maxime Weygand, former commander-in-chief in North Africa, has been missing for five days. The report hinted he had been arrested by three German officers at Vichy, Friday, and escorted to Germany, charged with aiding the Allies in Africa.

about 2,500 trucks from the Army and other Government agencies, and rents about 10,000 from private owners, to handle the Christmas mails. This year, it will be extremely difficult to obtain enough of these vehicles to meet even a substantial part of the need. The Army needs its own trucks and private owners are reluctant to let someone else use their tires.

Railroads are cooperating by converting some hundreds of steel box cars and similar equipment for mail transportation, and Joseph B. Eastman, Director of Defense Transportation, has ordered that unnecessary travel be curtailed to the limit during the holiday season. But these measures cannot assure deliveries of gifts on time unless the public cooperates by mailing early and thus spreading the transportation load over a longer period than usual.

Mr. Purdum called attention to the task of the Post Office Department in moving millions of pieces of mail every day to and from soldiers, sailors and marines throughout the world. This extraordinary job must be kept current, even while the holiday rush of mailings is handled. Also, he pointed out, the postal establishment is operating with many thousands of inexperienced personnel, employed to take the place of men called to the armed services. The new employees naturally cannot handle the holiday mail jam with the smoothness and speed of the postal veterans whom they replace.

In view of all these handicaps to the service, Mr. Purdum added, postal patrons should mail their gifts by December 1st if they wish to insure that their friends will not be disappointed at Christmas.

Woes of Oppressed in Europe Small Compared To Torture of Chinese by 'Japs', He Says

countless other things, but one cause of our indebtedness in particular is that in the past five years, practically with their bare fists, the Chinese have "hogged down" at least three million Japanese regulars. They have given us time to prepare for the irrepressible conflict." He, at this point, reminded of the plan of the Japanese—to force one billion people on the Asiatic mainland to worship the Japanese emperor. "We are faced with the problem of whether we will be slaves or free."

In mentioning the "conscienceless, devastating, cruel grip of the Japanese," Dr. Scott said: "We missionaries speak not in bitterness. The bulk of the Chinese Christians pray for the Japanese in spite of the oppression. We all have profound pity for them. The lust of the 'Jap' war lords was blamed for this 'undeclared satanic war,' with the consequent slaughter of village upon village. Japan has for generations been the sinister mother of undeclared war." At this juncture the speaker reminded that the onrush of the invaders through China was as if an enemy landing on the Atlantic coast of the United States thrust to the Mississippi River, destroying all educational institutions in its path. "The Japanese rushed through in tens of thousands of auto trucks sold them by the United States." The systematic destruction of mission stations, the cutting off of the hands of surgeons and physicians, the constant bombing every day for six months of mission hospitals despite the display of the American flag—all formed part of the interesting but horrible account.

Dr. Scott, as a background for a portion of his message, recalled the long-planned and systematic ruin of the Chinese monetary system, with silver being collected from the Chinese markets and from every home. Many people were bayoneted after their money was taken from them he told. "And that money was sent by the hundreds of millions to the United States, and changed into American gold in order that more than 40 kinds of war weapons could be purchased by the Japanese. Money that was dripping with more blood than any money in history!" How prices of food were thus caused to rise to advance starvation among residents of the invaded country was told. "Then there were the appalling outrages on more than 500,000 Chinese women and girls. And we know of the Japanese long-planned opium campaign to soften the people they planned to conquer."

Nothing but admiration was expressed for Madam Chiang Kai Shek, who in her "calm manner of writing gets 'red hot' in 'cool' condemnation of the nations which have broken treaties with China." The speaker told how the Generalissimo's wife expressed surprise and sorrow that the United States continued to furnish Japan with the necessary equipment for war. Then Dr. Scott added: "We must realize this is not only a fight to the death for China, but it concerns us in the plan of the invader."

The far Eastern situation was compared to that of the early Roman empire, when a small group of Christians dared to claim there was One higher than the emperor. "As far back as 1937, when China and Japan were at peace, there was imposed by the Japanese a censorship over sermons of Christian preachers in China. In many instances elders and pastors were held incommunicado, and then disappeared in order to make the Chinese chary of the Jesus doctrine." And as concerned the schools, only those text books prepared in Tokyo could be used. "Destruction of mission posts and outstations as far back as five and six years ago was mentioned, with the attempt at the same time on the part of the Japanese to build up Confucianism. And there was also an attempt to get the Chinese to 'warm up' to Shintoism or emperor worship."

How in the past few years the Chinese guerrillas have nibbled off an average of 300,000 Japanese a year was told by Dr. Scott. "And under these difficult conditions the Chinese Christian church has been making more progress along several lines than in any other year. Christians appearing before preachers and elders to be examined increased from dozens to hundreds when the war started, in spite of terrific threats to Christians. It was necessary to conduct twice as many church services and Sunday School sessions as usual to care for the people. That is the way the Chinese Christians have of telling the invader what they think of the situation. There is also an amazing increase in the sale of Bibles, so much so that the demand cannot be filled." At this point Dr. Scott gave an idea of Chiang Kai Shek's part in distribution of Bibles, even having special airplanes fly quantities of them to soldiers at the front. "There is shown an iron will on the part of all that China shall be free, and shall have educated Christian leadership." The missionary told how Christian leaders and people made long treks of over 1000 miles, across high mountains, through deep gorges and streams, and meeting all kinds of obstacles, in order to continue classes, sometimes in caves in the mountains.

Pointed out as one of the massive race traits of the Chinese is "the calmly going about, with faithfulness, any duty that demands their fealty. This is best expressed in the manner in which some risked their lives for me and my workers; and in the way some did die defending members of my family," added Dr. Scott. "We've got the first century brand of Christianity over there." High tribute was also paid the American missionary women, who when the men were away from the compound on various duties, often had to meet the invader at the gates. "At some stations there were 500 or more terrified refugees whom the American missionary women tried to protect. In our leprosarium many lepers were bayoneted, while others were scattered with no thought for their care."

Speaking of financial conditions in China, Dr. Scott informed that "We are all millionaires compared to the Chinese people. There is desperate poverty there since the wholesale seizure of their money. Their greeting to each other is not as we would expect, 'Good morning,' or 'How are you?' but 'Have you had anything to eat at all?' Many are stripping the bark from trees, mixing it with the chaff of wheat, and possibly boiling these with a half spoiled cabbage leaf to make a little soupy food. But they are beginning to realize the preciousness of God, even amidst appalling woes. How the title of those of the Christian church has helped many of the starving was mentioned.

Dr. Scott recalled the instance in May, 1939, when the Japanese broke the grand canal to flood the Tientsin plain. "Hundreds of coffins, buried in shallow graves, were floated on the waters. Crops were destroyed and people drowned." He also mentioned how 12 million people of the Yangtze valley went forth one night, "the most terrible hebra that ever occurred."

"All had heard of the rape of Nanking. And there were thousands of other villages which suffered a similar fate."

After telling that the Chinese Christian ministers receive in salary the equivalent of 15/20 of an American dollar per month, Dr. Scott stated that they literally go between the battle lines to minister to their flocks. "Under threat of torture the pastors were told by the Japanese to preach to their people the necessity of making peace with Japan, but never once did I hear of one giving in."

That Japanese have secured 18 provinces for Generalissimo and Madam Chiang Kai-Shek was another point brought out. "But they are still safe, and the Chinese people continue to pray for their safety." After stating that the three Soong sisters, of which the Generalissimo's wife is one, have had more influence for good than any three sisters in history, Dr. Scott told that publicists predict when this global war is over THE figure of the age will be Chiang Kai-Shek.

In bringing his address to a close the speaker told of two Chinese Christian martyrs, who, refusing to worship the Japanese emperor, proved to be "first century brand Christians." Tied to stiff poles they were rolled down the bank at the edge of the village pond, under the green slime to the black muck of the bottom. But in meeting their death they sang with faith "My Jesus I Love Thee."

The Rev. James R. Galley, pastor of the church, introduced Dr. Scott. Other clergymen participating in the service included: the Rev. George E. Boswell, St. James' Episcopal Church, Scripture reading; the Rev. Arthur D. Sargis, Eddington Presbyterian Church, prayer; the Rev. Willis H. Bolte, First Baptist Church, benediction. The Bristol Presbyterian choir sang.

The offering, amounting to $105, will be used for the work of China Relief.
